Project: To use the existing architectural wood grid and create a high visibility recognition system honoring past donors, future donors and the history of the hospital.

Solution: We broke this project into four recognition subsets — past donors to a tree of life campaign (image shown), the history of the hospital (image shown), donors to all major campaigns and individual high giving donors.

Our process is to fill the wall segment by segment with images relevant to the hospital, it's history and the field of health care. All the panels are created using our photo embedded metal process and all of the panels are magnetically attached so they can be moved with ease. The reaction to this installation by staff and visitors has been overwhelmingly positive from day one.
